PROBLEMS OF LIFE AND MIND.

BY

GEORGE HENRY LEWES.

FIRST SERIES. THE FOUNDATIONS OF A CREED.

VOL. II.

CONTENTS:—The Principles of Certitude.—From the Known to the Unknown.—Matter and Force.—Force and Cause.—The Absolute in the Correlations of Feeling and Motion.

The THIRD EDITION of VOL. I., price 12s., is now ready.

London: TRÜBNER & CO., 57 and 59 Ludgate Hill.

PROFESSOR MAX MÜLLER'S ESSAYS AND LECTURES.

The Seventh Edition, in 2 vols. crown 8vo, price 16s.

LECTURES ON THE SCIENCE OF LANGUAGE.

By F. MAX MÜLLER, M.A., &c., Foreign Member of the French Institute.

By the same Author, in crown 8vo, price 10s. 6d.

INTRODUCTION TO THE SCIENCE OF RELIGION.

Four Lectures delivered at the Royal Institution; with Two Essays on False Analogies and the Philosophy of Mythology.

"From first to last Prof. MAX MÜLLER's book is full of such instruction as educates in the highest sense of the word. It is a worthy contribution to the literature of a subject the reverent and scholar-like study of which will, to use our Author's own words, enlarge our sympathies, raise our thoughts above the small controversies of the day, and, at no distant future, evoke in the very heart of Christianity a fresh spirit and a new life."

ATHENÆUM.

CHIPS FROM A GERMAN WORKSHOP.

Vols. I. and II. Essays on the Science of Religion, and on Mythology, Traditions, and Customs. Second Edition, price 24s.

VOL. III. Essays on Literature, Biography, and Antiquities, price 16s.

London, LONGMANS & CO.

NEW WORK BY DR. GEORGE HARTWIG.

In One Volume, 8vo, illustrated with 8 Chromoxylographs and upwards of 60 Woodcuts, price 21s. cloth.

THE AERIAL WORLD, a Popular Account of the Phenomena and Life of the Atmosphere. By GEORGE HARTWIG, Doct. Med. and Philos.

By the same Author, uniformly illustrated:—

The SEA and its LIVING WONDERS, price 10s. 6d.

The POLAR WORLD, price 10s. 6d.

The TROPICAL WORLD, price 10s. 6d.

The SUBTERRANEAN WORLD, price 21s.

"We have frequently had occasion to allude to the publications of Dr. HARTWIG, and to speak in favourable terms of his efforts to interest the general reader in some of the more important natural phenomena, their causes and effects. Good, however, as have been the Author's works on the polar world, the sea, the tropical world, &c., we are of opinion that he has been even more successful in the present case. A treatise on meteorology is to most folk dry reading, but Dr. HARTWIG has contrived to construct a book which may fairly be styled Meteorology made Easy. It was no part of his plan to write a scientific treatise, but to make public, in an agreeable yet accurate form the results gained by modern investigation into the nature and phenomena of the atmosphere. Accordingly we have in Dr. HARTWIG's pages, chapters devoted to the composition and qualities of air, the force and direction of winds, the nature of clouds, waterpouts, fogs, dew, rain, snow, storms, cyclones, electrical phenomena, &c. The concluding chapters are devoted to the balloon as a scientific instrument, and as an observatory in time of war."

Gardener's Chronicle.

London, LONGMANS & CO.

Now ready, in 8vo, with numerous Woodcuts, price 12s. 6d.

POPULAR LECTURES ON SCIENTIFIC SUBJECTS. By Professor H. HELMHOLTZ. Translated by E. ATKINSON, Ph.D., F.R.S., Professor of Experimental Science, Staff College. With an Introduction by Professor TYNDALL.

"The most complex phenomena seem to become easily intelligible in Professor HELMHOLTZ's hands. ... Those who carefully study his Lectures will have made themselves masters of some of the greatest and most elevating results of modern science."—Globe.

London, LONGMANS & CO.

THE LATE SIR HENRY HOLLAND, BART.

Just published, in One Volume, 8vo, price 14s.

FRAGMENTARY PAPERS ON SCIENCE and other Subjects. By the late Sir HENRY HOLLAND, Bart. Edited by his Son, the Rev. FRANCIS J. HOLLAND.

"These interesting and agreeable papers by Sir H. Holland are a kind of supplement to his 'Recollections of Past Life.' While the latter are occupied chiefly with social and biographical details, the former, which we have now before us, deal mainly with physical science, or with those problems in mental and spiritual philosophy which are virtually inseparable from physics themselves. Sir H. Holland had originally intended to leave the task of revision to his son, but afterwards, in the Autumn of 1873, at the age of 85, and very shortly before his death, he courageously undertook the office himself. A memorandum given in the Preface, and which he left unfinished, is the very last writing that ever flowed from his pen. They are a memorial of this Ulysses and Nestor of his profession, popular as a fashionable physician, and still more popular as a man of society and raconteur, not to mention the zeal and energy with which he made foreign travel at once a serious pursuit and a source of undying pleasure. When we state that there are more than twenty-five essays within the space of some 400 pages, it will be seen that what they profess to be is not formal dissertations, but rather little feet of concentrated thought. In other words, they are guesses at truth and pregnant suggestions, which may serve not only to stimulate the thought of students, but to direct men of science into fruitful paths of inquiry."—Hour.

London, LONGMANS & CO.

Latest Edition, in 8vo, price 10s. 6d. cloth.

BACON'S ESSAYS, with Annotations. By RICHARD WHATELY, D.D., sometime Archbishop of Dublin. A New Edition (being the Seventh).

London, LONGMANS & CO.

In One Volume, 8vo, with 8 Illustrations, price 24s.

AIR and RAIN; the Beginnings of a Chemical Climatology. By ROBERT ANGUS SMITH, Ph.D., F.R.S., F.C.S. (General) Inspector of Alkali Works for the Government.

London, LONGMANS & CO.

JOHNSON'S DICTIONARY BY DR. R. G. LATHAM. Complete in Four Volumes, Quarto, price 7l. cloth.

A DICTIONARY of the ENGLISH LANGUAGE. By R. G. LATHAM, M.A., M.D., &c., late Fellow of King's College, Cambridge; Author of "The English Language," &c. Founded on that of Dr. SAMUEL JOHNSON, as edited by the Rev. H. J. Todd, M.A. With numerous Emendations and Additions.

"The special excellence of the present over all previous editions will be found in the etymological department."—John Bull.

"Though nominally based on Johnson's Dictionary, so much of the original text is discarded as imperfect or erroneous, and the additions in every department are so numerous and extensive, that it may be regarded virtually as a new book. ... Dr. Latham's Dictionary deserves to be studied by every one interested in the language; as a book of reference it is admirably fitted for general usefulness."—Edinburgh Review.

London, LONGMANS & CO., and the other PROPRIETORS.

In Two Volumes, 8vo, price 28s. cloth.

JOHN CONINGTON'S MISCELLANEOUS WRITINGS. Edited by J. A. SYMONDS, M.A., late Fellow of Magdalen College, Oxford. With a Memoir by H. J. SMITH, M.A., LL.D., F.R.S. Fellow of Balliol College; Savilian Professor of Geometry, Oxford.

London, LONGMANS & CO.

Of whom may be had, New Edition, crown 8vo, 9s.

The AENEID of VIRGIL, Translated into English Verse by Professor CONINGTON.

MR. WATTS'S DICTIONARY OF CHEMISTRY.

Complete in Five Volumes, 8vo, price 7l. 3s. cloth.

A DICTIONARY of CHEMISTRY, and the Allied Branches of other Sciences. By HENRY WATTS, F.R.S., assisted by eminent Scientific and Practical Chemists.

"The greatest work which England has yet produced on Chemistry—one of the greatest, indeed, which she has produced upon any scientific subject—is finished at last, and we are able to congratulate Mr. Watts most sincerely upon its completion."—Chemical News.

Also, in One thick Volume, 8vo, price 31s. 6d.

FIRST SUPPLEMENT to WATTS'S DICTIONARY of CHEMISTRY; bringing the Record of Chemical Discovery down to the end of the year 1869; including also several Additions to, and Corrections of, former results which have appeared in 1870 and 1871.

Nearly ready, in One Thick Volume, 8vo,

SECOND SUPPLEMENT to WATTS'S DICTIONARY of CHEMISTRY; bringing the Record of Chemical Discovery down to the end of 1872, including also the more important additions to the Science, published in the early part of 1873.

London, LONGMANS & CO.

Now ready, fcap. 8vo, price 2s. 6d.

MESSRS. MACMILLAN AND CO.'S PAGE.

LIFE of WILLIAM, EARL of SHELBURNE, afterwards FIRST MARQUESS of LANSDOWNE. With Extracts from his Papers and Correspondence. By LORD EDMOND FITZMAURICE. Vol. 1., 1737 to 1766. 8vo, 12s. [This day.]

MACREADY'S REMINISCENCES, and SELECTIONS from his DIARIES. Edited by Sir FREDERICK POLLOCK, Bart., one of his Executors. 8vo, with Four Portraits, engraved by Jeans. [Immediately.]

The Right Hon. FRANCIS BLACKBURNE, late LORD CHANCELLOR of IRELAND, his LIFE, chiefly in connexion with his Public and Political Career. By his Son, EDWARD BLACKBURNE, Q.C. 8vo, with Portrait, engraved by Jeans. 12s. [This day.]

"Mr. Edward Blackburne has written an excellent book. A short, pointed work such as this is far more effective than a long and laboured, even though trustworthy, chronicle of a man's life. . . . It gives a remarkable picture of the administration of the law in Ireland during the present generation, with its various difficulties and complications, and shows also how dependent the highest authorities are upon the resident Irish legal officials."—Spectator.

ELSIE: a Lowland Sketch. By A. C. M. Crown 8vo, 6s. [Next week.]

The NEW TESTAMENT of OUR LORD and SAVIOUR JESUS CHRIST. A New Translation on the Basis of the Authorised Version, from a Critically-Revised Greek Text, newly arranged in paragraphs; with Analyses, copious References, and Illustrations from Original Authorities. New Chronological and Analytical Harmony of the Four Gospels, Notes and Dissertations: A Contribution to Christian Evidence. By J. B. MCLELLAN, M.A., Vicar of Bottisham, Rural Dean of North Camps, and late Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge. 2 vols. Vol. I.—The FOUR GOSPELS; with the Chronological and Analytical Harmony. 8vo, 30s. [This day.]

FOURTH EDITION, WITH PREFACE ON "SUPERNATURAL RELIGION."

A GENERAL SURVEY of the HISTORY of the CANON of the NEW TESTAMENT. By the Rev. B. F. WESTCOTT, D.D., Canon of Peterborough. Crown 8vo, 10s. 6d. [This day.]

SERMONS by the late G. C. HARRIS, Prebendary of Exeter, and Vicar of St. Luke's, Torquay. With Memoir by CHARLOTTE M. YONGE. Extra fcap. 8vo, with Portrait, 6s. [This day.]

The CHRISTIAN CALLING. Sermons by the Rev. J. LLEWELYN DAVIES, M.A., Rector of Christ Church, Marylebone. Extra fcap. 8vo, 6s. [This day.]

ESSAYS SELECTED from Professor HUXLEY'S "LAY SERMONS, ADDRESSES, and REVIEWS." Second Edition. Crown 8vo, 1s. [This day.]

The HARBOUR BAR: a Tale of Scottish Life. 2 vols, 21s. [This day.]

"The author has many of the qualifications of a novelist. A keen eye for the picturesque and a power of close observation are indicated in this very lifelike picture of fisher-life on the north-east coast of Scotland."—Athenaeum.

"Upon the working out of Elsie's character the author has expended the more labour, and with good results too, for rarely in fiction is there to be met with a more perfectly finished picture of a true-hearted, unselfish woman. . . . The description of the terrible catastrophe of the storm on the Harbour Bar is perfect in its graphic vigour and intensity."—Morning Post.

"Bright, picturesque, and true to life. . . . The story is readable and pleasant from first to last, growing in interest as it proceeds, and everywhere showing that the author is really at home in all the vivid scenes which he describes."—Standard.

GOVINDA SAMANTA; or, the History of a Bengal Raiyat. By the Rev. LAL BEHARI DAY. 2 vols. crown 8vo, 21s. [This day.]

"The book, which claims to be rather history than romance, is well written. The author, in spite of his foreign name, writes better English than many Englishmen; and the book presents a careful, minute, and well-drawn picture of Hindoo peasant life."—Daily News.

"Besides writing a novel of a perfectly original character, one which even the most blasé frequenter of the circulating library must acknowledge to be out of the common, he has contrived to give us an immense amount of information concerning the peasantry of India."—Morning Post.

"In one respect it is a striking and valuable work. It presents the best and truest picture we possess of the life of the poor agricultural labourer of Bengal. . . . Unique in its way, a simple narrative wonderfully complete and intensely realistic."—Athenaeum.

EGYPTIAN SEPULCHRES and SYRIAN SHRINES; including a Visit to Palmyra. By EMILY A. BEAUFORT (Viscountess Strangford), Author of "The Eastern Shores of the Adriatic." New Edition, crown 8vo, 7s. 6d. [This day.]

"This delightful book of travels includes a visit to Palmyra, which is described with singularly picturesque power. The fund of new information contained in the volume, and the pleasant method of communicating the information, will make the volume a real favourite with all who take an interest in travel."—Standard.

LESSONS in RIGID DYNAMICS. By the Rev. G. PIRIE, MA., Fellow and Tutor of Queen's College, Cambridge. Crown 8vo, 6s. [This day.]

TALES in POLITICAL ECONOMY. By MILLCENT GARRETT FAWCETT, Author of "Political Economy for Beginners." Globe 8vo, 3s.

"The idea is a good one, and it is quite wonderful what a mass of economic teaching the author manages to compress into a small space. . . . The true doctrines of international trade, currency, and the ratio between production and population, are set before us and illustrated in a masterly manner."—Athenaeum.

TWELFTH ANNUAL PUBLICATION, REVISED AFTER OFFICIAL RETURNS.

The STATESMAN'S YEAR-BOOK for 1875: a Statistical and Historical Annual of the States of the Civilized World. Handbook for Politicians and Merchants. By F. MARTIN. Crown 8vo, 10s. 6d. [This day.]

"Everybody who knows this work is aware that it is a book that is indispensable to writers, financiers, politicians, statesmen, and all who are directly or indirectly interested in the political, social, industrial, commercial, and financial condition of their fellow-creatures at home and abroad. All the information that could possibly be desired by politicians, merchants, and public speakers and writers, relative to the Constitution and Government, the Church and education, the revenue and expenditure, the army and navy, the area and population, the commerce, industry, and trade of every civilized country in the world, is to be found, readily accessible, within the small limits of this admirable year-book."—Standard.

Sir SAMUEL W. BAKER'S ISMAILIA: a Narrative of the Expedition to Central Africa for the Suppression of the Slave Trade, organised by Ismail, Khedive of Egypt. 2 vols. 8vo, with Portraits, Maps, and Illustrations by Zwecker and Durand, 36s.

"The tough obstinacy with which Sir Samuel fought his enemies, beginning with the masses of vegetation which made his river voyage such labour that the men were 'heart-broken' almost from the first; the skill and tact of his management; the alternations of hope and fear; the descriptions of native character, of scenery, and of animal life; the 'Forty Thieves,' to whom Sir Samuel and his readers are under deep obligations; the battles; the constant and various danger; the ever-present mystery and charm of Africa; the politics of the chiefs; the striking figures of Abou Saoud and Rionga; the tremendous peril of the expedition at Unyoro—a drama in which fire and poison, treachery, revolt, and cunning have their respective rôles—and the masterly manner of the retreat; all these hold the reader's attention captive, and prevent him from laying it down until it has been read to the end."—Spectator.

A RAMBLE ROUND the WORLD, 1871. By M. le Baron de HUBNER, formerly Ambassador and Minister. Translated by Lady HERBERT. 2 vols. 8vo, 25s.

"All who delight in a really good book of travel will do well to read this."—Academy.
 "This work does not contain a single dull paragraph, and marks an important epoch in the travel literature of the countries of which it treats."—Morning Post.

TWO DRAMATIC POEMS—"Blind Love" and "Cyril." By MENELLA B. SMEDLEY, Author of "Lady Grace," &c. Extra fcap. 8vo, 6s.

"The plot is worked out with much real pathos. Nor is the delineation of character less remarkable. No less true and refined is the touch which makes Raymond divine and interpret the by-play of the sensitive Hope, and that other which shows us the blind man's estimate of the correspondence of his mental ideal with the visible reality, as yet unrevealed."—Saturday Review.

The STORY of a FELLOW SOLDIER. By FRANCES AWDRY. Extra fcap. 8vo, with 6 Illustrations, 3s. 6d. [This day.]

"This is a life of that brave, single-minded, and untiring Christian soldier, Bishop Patteson, written for the young. It is simply and pleasantly written, and presents a lively picture of the labours, hardships, troubles, and pleasures of earnest missionary work among the Polynesian Islands."—Standard.

LIFE of JOHN COLERIDGE PATTESON, MISSIONARY BISHOP of the MELANESIAN ISLANDS. By CHARLOTTE M. YONGE. With Two Portraits, engraved by Jeans. 2 vols. crown 8vo, 12s. [Fourth and Cheaper Edition.]

QUARTERLY REVIEW.

"Written with remarkable knowledge and power. The author has done his work diligently and conscientiously. We express our sense of the value of this work. We heartily like the general spirit, and are sure that the author has bestowed upon his work a loving labour, with an earnest desire to find out the truth. To the general reader it will convey much information in a very pleasant form; to the student it will give the means of filling up the outlines of Church history with life and colour."

THE TIMES.

"A work of the very highest merit; its learning is exact and profound; its narrative full of genius and skill; its descriptions of men are admirably vivid. We wish to place on record our opinion that Dr. Mommensen's is by far the best history of the Decline and Fall of the Roman Commonwealth."

EDINBURGH REVIEW.

"Taking the author's complete mastery of his subject, the variety of his gifts and acquirements, his graphic power in the delineation of natural and individual character, and the vivid interest which he inspires in every portion of his book, he is without an equal in his own sphere."

RICHARD BENTLEY & SON, New Burlington Street.

SENSATION AND INTUITION. Studies in Psychology and Aesthetics. By JAMES SULLY, M.A.

"The materials furnished by a quick and lively natural sense are happily ordered by a mind trained in scientific method. This merit is especially conspicuous in those parts of the book where, with abundant ingenuity and no mean success, Mr. Sully endeavours to throw some light of cosmic order into the chaos of aesthetics."—Saturday Review.

"The writer of such an essay (on Belief) must be ranked as a psychologist of no common order."—Professor BAIN in the Fortnightly Review.

"His remarkable collection of studies in psychology and aesthetics... Two essays concerned with the aesthetic aspects of human character and its artistic representation display a fine critical tact joined to no common analytical power."—Professor CROOK ROBERTSON in the Examiner.

"There is in this essay (on Musical Expression) much of imaginative thought and graceful play of fancy which cannot fail to attract and gratify genuine lovers of music."—Mr. SEDLEY TAYLOR in the Academy.

"As a psychological critic, Mr. Sully is entitled to a high place among contemporary writers, while as an expositor of the principles of fine art he stands almost alone."—Nonconformist.

"The thirteen essays of which this volume consists form one of the most thoughtful and suggestive treatises on psychology which have of late years issued from the British Experimental School."—Inquirer.

"We commend these essays to all who would care to read a searching, though friendly examination of the views of Spencer, Darwin, and Mill."—Scotsman.

"This collection of essays, which we have read with pleasure and profit."—Mr. D. A. SPALDING in Nature.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle ma-ladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—See article

HOW TO SELECT AN OFFICE for LIFE ASSURANCE.

Extract from Board of Trade's Report, July 2, 1874.

"Taking Insurance business as it exists in this country, the public cannot be misled if, when seeking an office in which to effect an insurance, they select one which transacts its business at a small percentage of working cost, and does not anticipate its profits."

THESE TESTS ARE ENTIRELY FULFILLED BY THE ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY,

the Report itself showing that of all the English Provincial Offices and all the Scotch Offices, the Royal's Ratio of Expenses to its Premium Income is the Lowest, and the Company have never anticipated a Single Shilling of Profit.

Extract from "The Times" of July 24, 1874.

"On the whole, it would be safe for the father of a family, contemplating the Insurance of his Life, to select one of the Offices with a Large Life Fund, a Small Expenditure on Management, and a Rate of Interest ranging from 4·2 to 4·5 per cent."

"THE ROYAL"

ENTIRELY MEETS THE WHOLE OF THESE REQUIREMENTS—

its Life Fund is close upon Two Millions Sterling; its Expenses are Lower than those of any other English Provincial Office, and of any Scotch Office; and its rate of Interest is 4·4 per cent.

LIFE FUNDS	...	...	...	...	£1,761,523

"We have examined and counted every Security, and have found all correct and in perfect order, and that the present aggregate market value is in excess of the amounts in the Balance-sheet."—From Auditors' Report, July 17, 1874.

"As evidence of the care exercised in the Investment of the Life Funds, it may be mentioned that they have never been reduced a single penny by bad or doubtful securities."—From Chairman's Speech at Annual Meeting, August 7, 1874.

MESSRS. RIVINGTON'S NEW LIST.

BOSSUET and his CONTEMPORARIES.

By the Author of "A Dominican Artist," "Life of S. Francis de Sales," &c. Crown 8vo, 12s.

"Bossuet's daily life, his style of preaching, his association with the stirring political, social, and ecclesiastical events of his time, are presented in a simple but picturesque way." Daily News.

"Should be read widely."—Scotsman.

"As a chronicle of Church life in France at an eventful period it is invaluable in itself, and rendered more so by its well-timed appearance."—John Bull.

"Here is a clear and good work, the product of thorough industry and of honest mind."—Nonconformist.

"All biography is delightful, and this story of Bossuet is eminently so."—Notes and Queries.

"A very interesting and well-timed publication."—Standard.

"It contains so many interesting facts, that it may be profitably read even by those who already know the man and the period."—Spectator.

"The history of his life is well told in the pages before us.... The book may be read with interest and profit by those who wish to study the religious characteristics of the 16th and 17th centuries, both Roman and Protestant."—Rock.

"It would be no slight gain to the cause of Gallicanism, now so depressed and humiliated, if the English memoir before us were simply translated; for, unquestionably, it is superior to anything of the kind in French. A Glumant want has been adequately supplied. The book is in every sense well done; accurate, interesting, and concise; doing full justice to the great merits of its hero, and yet rarely erring on the side of excessive partiality."—Scottish Guardian.

"Is complete in all that is necessary to convey a uniform history of the time, and of the character of the subject of the memoir."—New York Times.

IMMANUEL: Thoughts for Christmas and other Seasons, with other Poems. By A. MIDDLEMORE MORGAN, M.A. Small 8vo, 6s.

"These poems are very uneven in their degrees of excellence, but there can be no question as to the author's possession of really poetical gift and genius of a high order."—Standard.

"These 'Thoughts' are principally in the form of quaternary verse, and often have considerable force and sweetness." Guardian.

"The author reminds us much of Mr. Isaac Williams, whose poetical powers he seems to have inherited. We urge our readers to procure and study 'Immanuel,' for it will prove a light for realising Gospel truth."—Church Herald.

"Mr. Morgan is not unknown as a graceful Christian writer, of great taste, true instincts, and some power. There is considerable thought in 'Immanuel,' and much patristic learning woven into poetical form. The life and love of Our Blessed Lord are sung with delicate taste and deep devotion, from various points of view."—Union Review.

The SPIRITUAL COMBAT. Together with the Supplement and the Path of Paradise. By L. SCUPOLI. A New Translation. Small 8vo, elegantly printed with red borders, on extra-superfine toned paper, 5s. Forming a Volume of the "Library of Spiritual Works for English Catholics."

The TEN CANTICLES of the OLD TESTAMENT CANON, namely, the Songs of Moses (First and Second), Deborah, Hannah, Isaiah (First, Second, and Third), Heseiah, Jonah, and Habakkuk. Newly Translated, with Notes and Remarks on their Drift and Use. By the Rev. W. H. B. PROBY, M.A., formerly Tyrwhitt Hebrew Scholar in the University of Cambridge. 8vo, 5s.

OUT of the BODY. A Scriptural Inquiry. By the Rev. JAMES S. POLLOCK, M.A., Incumbent of St. Alban's, Birmingham. Crown 8vo. [Just ready.]

LIFE of ROBERT GRAY, Bishop of Cape Town and Metropolitan of Africa. Edited by his Son, the Rev. CHARLES GRAY, M.A., Vicar of Helmsley, York. With Portrait and Map. 2 Vols. 8vo. [In the Press.]

The RELIGION of the CHRIST: its

Historic and Literary Development considered as an Evidence of its Origin. Being the Bampton Lectures for 1874. By the Rev. STANLEY LEATHES, M.A., Minister of St. Philip's, Regent Street, and Professor of Hebrew, King's College, London. 8vo, 12s.

"These lectures are a noble contribution to the evidences of the Christian faith; and to those who have made themselves acquainted with the author's previous works on the witness to Christ borne by the Old Testament, by S. Paul, and by S. John, they will have a special value as consummating a cumulative line of argument which a very logical and a very reverent mind has exhibited with irresistible force." British Quarterly Review.

"In these 'Eight Divinity Lectures' to confirm the Christian Faith, the will of the Rev. John Bampton has been profoundly carried out."—Notes and Queries.

"The Bampton Lectures of the present year are not only in themselves worthy of a most thoughtful study, but are admirably adapted to meet some of the foremost objections which are now being brought against the divine authority of the Holy Scriptures. We earnestly recommend our readers to buy the book for themselves."—Literary Churchman.

"A volume which ought to take its place beside the best standard works on the evidences of Christianity—a kind of literature in which the Church of England is peculiarly rich."—Scotsman.

"There is a graceful ease in the style, a sustained continuity in the thought, a cumulative force in the argument, and a range of thoughtful exposition which are not often found in such close combination, and which give to the volume a solid merit."—Watchman.

"His Bampton Lectures are perhaps the most suggestive and elaborate of all his productions, and would of themselves win for him a high position as a writer on Christian evidence."—Freeman.

"With thoughtful minds it will carry great weight."—New York Churchman.

"An argument which has wonderful freshness and point, which is compacted together into a glowing treatise and logical statement, which is not encumbered and stiff with learning, which is written in the language of daily life, which embraces the results of thorough study up to most recent writers, and which anyone can read with profit.... The preface, in which Mr. Leathes sums up the arguments in his lucid way, which are more elaborately drawn out in the Lectures, is one of the finest specimens of clear, candid, temperate reasoning in modern literature."—New York Independent.

ALFGAR the DANE; or, the Second

Chronicle of Æscendune. A Tale. By the Rev. A. D. CRAKE, B.A., Chaplain of All Saints' School, Bloxham. Author of "A History of the Church under the Roman Empire." Crown 8vo, 3s. 6d.

"Mr. Crake's 'Chronicles of Æscendune' have their second instalment in 'Alfgar the Dane,' a youth who is saved from the massacre on St. Brice's night, to meet with many capital adventures."—Guardian.

"The present chronicle relates to the days of Ethelred 'the Unready' and Edmund Ironside, his son; and is constructed with considerable skill, and no mean powers of writing a good and readable story calculated to delight and instruct, not only the boys for whom it was expressly compiled, but many an older reader also. We trust that Mr. Crake will not fail to extend his series."—Union Review.

"The young will read it with interest and remember it with profit, and will certainly be led by its pages to look forward eagerly to further 'Chronicles of Æscendune.'"—Scottish Guardian.

"As a tale, his work is interesting; as a history, it is of very considerable value."—Nonconformist.

"It is not often that a writer combines so completely the qualities which go to make up the historian and the novelist, but Mr. Crake has this happy conjunction of faculties in an eminent degree."—Standard.

"A good story for boys, and has been written to convey the actual aspects of life in England in the days of Edmund Ironside, when the Danes were battling for a footing on our island. It has all the elements of the stirring period, and will charm boys with vigour in them."—Edinburgh Courier.
